A world free from Parkinson's

OUR MISSION

Cure Parkinson's is the only organisation in the UK solely dedicated to finding a cure for Parkinson's. Our goal is to find new treatments that could slow, stop or reverse the condition, to change the future for people with Parkinson's.

We believe that we are closer than ever to a cure and are acting with urgency to make this a reality for the 153,000 people in the UK and over 8.5 million people worldwide living with Parkinson's.

Tom's story

Tom was just 33 when he was given the devastating news that he had Parkinson's. Ten years later, Tom and his wife Cat welcomed their baby daughter, Thea, into their lives. Parenthood is challenging for anyone, but particularly for those navigating it with Parkinson's. Things most parents take for granted are not so simple.

"I really wish that I could be a normal dad. There's going to be a point where I have to work out how to explain to her that there is something wrong with me. That I'm not like other dads." Tom

"It's hugely reassuring to me that Cure Parkinson's are doing their best to change the future for people like me." Tom

"A cure would give Thea her dad back." Cat, Tom's Wife

You can help us find a cure for Tom and the 8.5 million people living with Parkinson's worldwide.

“ Back in 2005 the word ‘cure’ was never used... cure was seen as a false hope – and actually, if you don’t have hope, you don’t have anything. Back then we needed something focused on the research not just the care... it needed to be more energetic, more feisty! This is me - this is us! Together we can find the cure.

Tom Isaacs, late Co-founder and President of Cure Parkinson’s

Cure Parkinson’s was founded by four people living with Parkinson’s, including Tom Isaacs. Tom’s vision and determination to find a cure led to the creation of this charity, and we remain determined to drive forward that vision with more urgency than ever.
